

MSI is pleased to announce our 2010 Winter Player Development Program for field players in grades K-3. Several indoor sessions will be offered this winter with each session consisting of four 1-hour classes. Sessions will be held at either the Discovery Sports Center on the grounds of the Maryland Soccerplex in Germantown or at the Rockville Sportsplex on Southlawn Court in Rockville. The cost for each 4-week session is $80.00.

The MSI Winter Player Development Program provides additional developmental opportunities for those players who have shown special motivation and interest in the game. It offers these players a memorable experience of skills development and fun play with some of MSI's top staff and Academy coaches. One of the key features of this program is that, in order to be eligible, a player must be registered with MSI and remain on his or her recreational team.

Here are the classes being offered this winter:
